The Book of Jeremiah, Chapter 21

ΙΕΡΕΜΙΑΣ ΚΑ΄

Each verse opens with the running Greek, an English translation, and a discourse note (its connective, relation, and role in the argument). Below follows the word-by-word breakdown in six tiers: gloss, case (color), parsing, syntax, semantic force, and a | lexical note.

Theme

Zedekiah's plea is answered with surrender, judgment, and a last call to justice.

Translation & textual notes

The Greek text of Jeremiah 21 follows the standard critical text of the Septuagint as established in the Rahlfs-Hanhart edition (Septuaginta, rev. ed. 2006), an ancient and public-domain text; the critical apparatus is not reproduced. Opens in siege conditions as Zedekiah sends priests to ask whether the Lord may once more act wondrously against Babylon. Jeremiah's answer reverses that hope: the Lord will turn Judah's own weapons back into the city, strike inhabitants and livestock, and hand king and people alike into Babylonian power without pity. Yet the oracle is not simply fatalistic. A second movement places before the people the way of life and the way of death, making surrender to the Chaldeans the only path to survival. The closing address turns to the royal house, insisting that Davidic rule still bears covenant obligation to judge rightly and rescue the oppressed; if that duty is despised, the palace-security of Jerusalem's valley will not save it from divine fire. Greek versification is followed here.

Discourse structure of the chapter

A · 21:1-3

Zedekiah seeks an oracle in the face of Babylon's siege

Begins with a royal embassy asking Jeremiah to inquire whether the Lord will repeat his mighty wonders and drive the Babylonian king away.

B · 21:4-7

The Lord declares that he himself will fight against Jerusalem

Instead of rescue, Jeremiah announces that Judah's weapons will be turned inward, the city struck with pestilence, and Zedekiah with the survivors handed over to enemies without mercy.

C · 21:8-10

A way of life remains only through surrender

The people are told that staying in the city means death, while going out to the Chaldeans means life, because the Lord has fixed his face against the city for harm.

D · 21:11-14

The royal house is warned to practice justice before fire falls

The house of David is commanded to execute judgment and rescue the plundered, but Jerusalem's pride in its secure setting is answered with a threat of consuming fire.

On the labels. Parsing gives Tense·Voice·Mood·Person·Number (+ Case·Number·Gender for participles) and lemma. The syntactic-function and semantic-force tiers follow standard intermediate-grammar categories (e.g. Wallace, Greek Grammar Beyond the Basics); both involve interpretive judgment, and the majority reading has been chosen where opinions differ. Lexical notes condense commonly cited data (etymology, sense range, synonym contrasts, NT frequency, OT/LXX echoes) and are no substitute for a lexicon.

On the discourse tier. Discourse structure operates above the word, so it is shown at the clause/verse level (the connective, the relation it signals, and the role of the clause) and summarized in the chapter outline. Relation labels, any proposed chiasm, and the paragraph divisions reflect a common reading of the argument; other discourse analyses segment and label some relations differently.
